Welcome!

The former Electoral–Mainzian Pack- und Waagehof from the early 18th century with its richly decorated magnificent facade is one of the most beautiful buildings in Erfurt's old town. Over a hundred years ago, in 1886, a picture gallery was opened here. From this, other special museums developed in a short time. Today, the Stadtpalast am Anger houses the art museum of the state capital Erfurt: Here, landscape paintings, still lifes and portraits from the 19th century to the present can be seen, as well as the largest collection of Thuringian faïences and arts and crafts. Prominent is the most important collection of medieval art from Erfurt and Thuringia with works of international rank. On the first floor is one of the few surviving murals of German Expressionism by Erich Heckel.

Information on the "Tourism for All" labeling system

All establishments and locations certified with the label "Tourism for All" meet the following quality criteria:

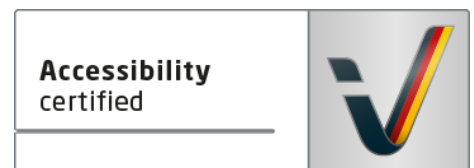

- Data and information on accessibility are collected and checked on site by external, specially trained evaluators. The method is not based on self-assessments.
- Data on accessibility is available in detail and can be viewed by the guests.
- At least one staff member has successfully passed a training on "Accessibility as a comfort and quality feature".

The labeling – explanation of the logos and pictograms

The label "Information about Accessibility" indicates that detailed and verified information on accessibility is available for all groups of people.

The label "Accessibility certified" is based on "Information about Accessibility". It means that the quality criteria defined for specific groups of people are met partially or completely.

The label "Accessibility certified" is available in two requirement levels:

"Accessibility certified: partially accessible".

The quality criteria are partially fulfilled for the pictured group of people, i.e. the establishment/location is partially accessible for wheelchair users. The "i" in the pictogram indicates that it is recommended to read again carefully whether the offer meets all (your oder the guest's) individual requirements.

"Accessibility certified: accessible".

The quality criteria are fulfilled for the pictured group of people, i.e. the establishment/location is accessible for wheelchair users.

There are defined quality criteria for seven groups of people and a specific pictogram for each group.
